

User Centered Design 2020

Demo 2

4 X-task, Group work.

The current need for physical and social distancing creates a lot of challenge for conducting user research. In this task, you meet virtually as a team and discuss the obstacles and solutions you found, and then jointly suggest the solutions as answers to this assignment.

Before the meeting, each team member conducts an independent search online about user research in the coronavirus time. Find blogs, news, updates, podcasts, company announcements, all with the goal of solving the current challenge: how to conduct UX research and development remotely. Schedule an online meeting (manager) and bring your findings to the meeting.

As a solution to this task, create a table with the following columns:

Challenge/problem | Solution/Changes/Comment | Source/URL

Identify at least five important items.

Some initial material to have you start off:
